

Cut out each number and letter, then place on a rotating wheel. To make your wheel, you can use 2 paper plates with a fastener that allows your wheel to rotate or on 2 pieces of laminate.

Once your numbers and letters are placed on the wheel (see illustration below) you can have client call off the numbers and letters in order starting from A a 1, B b 2, C c 3, OR Z z 26, Y y 25, and so on. You may want give your client 1 minute on the clock to record progress easier and you will want to be steady when slowly turning the wheel as they point out with their index finger and say the numbers and letters in sequence.
